Snap-on Revises Live Stream Training Days and Times

Offers More Flexibility to Accommodate Busy Schedules

LINCOLNSHIRE, Ill., March 26, 2026 – Snap-on® announces it has revised its live stream training days and times, giving automotive technicians greater flexibility to accommodate their busy schedules while still enhancing their diagnostic skills.

Jason Gabrenas, diagnostics national trainer for Snap-on, will conduct live training at 7:00 p.m. CST:

- Tuesdays on Zoom and YouTube
- Wednesdays on Facebook

“With advancing vehicle technology, it’s important to stay up to date with training, so we added another opportunity during the week for technicians to learn the latest tips and techniques to get the most out of their diagnostic tools,” said Gabrenas. “During each training session, participants will receive 30 minutes of in-depth demonstrations and informational material and have 15 minutes for questions and answers.”

The schedule of second quarter training sessions includes:

- April 7/8 Benefits of a Repeatable Diagnostic Workflow
- April 14/15 Automatic Transmission Special Functions
- April 21/22 Body Shop Scanner Functions
- April 28/29 EV Software Functions
- May 5/6 Advanced Scanner Functions and Data Analysis
- May 12/13 Test Don't Guess – Guided Component Testing
- May 19/20 Modern Braking Systems Design and Diagnosis
- May 26/27 HVAC Diagnosis Using Thermal Imaging
- June 2/3 Benefits of a Repeatable Diagnostic Workflow
- June 9/10 Automatic Transmission Special Functions
- June 16/17 Airbag System Operation and Diagnosis
- June 23/24 Body Controls Operation and Diagnosis
- June 30/July 1 A/C Diagnosis
